COMMENT OF THE DAY

Still No Buses

TONGKONG'S - sympathy II goes out to the people of London with the news that the bus strike is to continue. After six weeks of neute inconvenience largely | the suburban public, Tuesday's decision by the busmen is bound to provoke much dismay and anger.

The issue has now been taken; out of the hands of the General Secretary of the Transport and General, Workers' Union, Mr Cousins. But not unfairly, his intransigence at an earlier stage of the strike will be blamed for its continuation, now past all bounds of reasonableness.

Busmen, of course, made the decision to remain on strike by a narrow majority. But many will wonder what the figures would have been it the vote were taken overall instead of leaving 114 garages to decide the issue.

A Review

THE issue is strangely not L whether or not the 36,000 | London busmen should get a rise. That has been decided. Their pay, under the terms of a recent, industrial court award, is to be increased by 8/6 a week. It involves 12,000 country busmen who got nothing.

The London Transport Executive has, however, agreed to review their wages. It has also stipulated that any increase then agreed to will be paid as from July 2 and the Executive further agreed to begin this review the day before London busmen resumed work.

But Mr Cousins was not satisfied. He wanted the London busmen's rise to be backdated to March 12 and any increase for the country backer to be back. try busmen to be backdated to the start of review. It was this proposal which was to have been the subject of further talks with London Transport.

Fair Bargain

TN accepting this new basis last Friday, a conference of 132 delegates from 114 Central London, trolley and country garages also decided to recommend a return to work at a date to be fixed later at another meeting of the conference. busmen have now narrowly rejected.

London Transport would then be wise in the interests of its own relations with the public, to respond to any face-saving offer the bus-men make. This whole dismal business must, however, reflect very seriously both on the Union's ability to handle its men and on the busmen themselves. As Mr John Luff said in an article from London in yesterday's China Mail, public patience in the face of this great prois really something to be wondered at.

charge against the Hon. M. W. Lo that he allowed his dog to wander on a public thoroughfare without being on a lead was dismissed by Mr Hin-shing Lo in the Central Magistracy this morning.

Under the Magistrate's Ordinance, Mr Lo dismissed the charge without registering a conviction. He said however the charge against Mr Lo was proved "but I am of the opinion that having regard to the extenuating circumstances under which the offence was committed, it is inexpedient to inflict any punishment on the offender."

Montevideo, June 18. A "Molotov Cocktail" was thrown at the Soviet Embassy here during the night but quick action by firemen prevented damage. Early today hundreds of students protesting against the execution of Mr Imre Nagy, former Hungarian Prime Minister, marched towards the Embassy but were dispersed by police. About 300 remained in the neighbourhood, protesting loudly. An attempt to deface the Embassy with tar also failed since the actual building is 40 yards from the street and the lumps falled to reach their target.-Reuter.

London, June 19. President Eisenhower may have improved his golf in office - but Mr Šelwyn Lloyd's gamo has deteriorated.

Before he became Foreign Secretary, Mr Lloyd had a handicap of six at the Royal Liverpool course.

Now, says the News Chronicle today, he has confided to the golf society of Great Britain that his handicap "ought to be about 18."

But that will not stop the society making him its 1,000th member and giving him a -luncheon next week.---China Mall Special.

Sweden play yet again on their home pitch in Solna, Stockholm, this time against the USSR.

Unbeaten

The Swedes, unbeaten in home internitional matches for three years, should retain their record. The Russians played like a tired team in Tuesday's replay with England and were lucky to win. They will almost certainly have to take the field without one of their best players, centrebalf. Krizhevski, who was injured in the closing seconds of Tuesday night's game.

Biggest Attraction

Biggest attraction at Wimbledon this year will be the new Brazillan bombshell, 18-yearold Maria Bueno, who has captured the Italian title on her first invasion of Europe. She could reach the Wimbledon final at her first appearance.

Watch out, too, for the 23year-old American Janet Hopps. Another Small Bank Rate Cut Is Likely Soon

By SYDNEY GAMPELL

London, June 18. Cancellation of the remaining half per cent of last September's 2 per cent jump in Bank rate should occur fairly soon. Bank rate would then have been hiked from 5 to 7 per cent in one fell swoop, and eased back

New Loan Wins Good Response

Paris, June 18. France's new loan drive has taken a fast and successful start, unofficial reports indicated today. About 5,000 million france (about $12,000,000) worth of gold ingots and coins are believed to have been sold by private holders to subscribe for the 3.5 per cent gold-indexed public loan during the first day. Banking circles said: "Our impression is that the loan is going well, even more rapidly than the 1952 Pinay loan, which was closed after seven weeks of sales."--France-Presse.

The London General Certificate of Education examination certificates for 1957 arrived in the Colony a week ago and are now being sent out to candidates, the Education Department said this morning.

With the certificates, the London University who conduct the exams, sent a letter applogising for the delay saying it was due to staffing problems.

They said this would not happen again as they are introducing automation to help speed things along, The Education Department said this morning the delay was no fault of theirs.

Polio Outbreak

Sir,—Six hours after reading the statement made by a spokesman of the Medical Department in reference to the inwondering how that individual has the audacity of putting forward an if not fantastic explanation as to why the number of pollo cases have increased in Hongkong. I quote the offending paragraph; "With better health conditions existing in the Colony. fewer children die in infancy, and more grow up and are liable to infection by polio". In plain language the explanation is firstly the poor kids would have been better off if they died in their infancy; secondly if they did survive they were liable to infection by pollo nnyway. All this because of better health conditions prevailing in the Colony! God have pity on our children and the chappy in the Medical Department! STILL WONDERING AND A LITTLE SCARED.

Amahs' Hours

Sir: Our enlightened brothers in Britain complain that Hongkong women work excessively long hours in factories and reports have been published in the newspapers saying that Government is considering legisfation to control conditions of employment in the Colony. How, one wonders, if legislation is possible, will this affect the employment of amahs who work considerably longer hours than any factory employee. My own amah is in the flat usually at seven every morning that the fundamental rule of and does not leave until after criminal fudicature is that the nine o'clock at night. If we
